ABOUT US

Brief Information

In the world of cryptocurrency trading, opportunities emerge and disappear within seconds. Fimonex is a fully automated crypto arbitrage platform designed to maximize these opportunities with optimal efficiency.

Fimonex is managed by a team of experienced professionals specializing in the industry. The core strength of our platform lies in our advanced arbitrage software, Fimbot. Fimbot constantly scans the markets, purchases crypto assets at the lowest price available, and instantly sells them on the highest-priced exchange to generate profits for investors.

Our founder, Aaron Herbert, and our dedicated team have built Fimonex with the principles of speed, security, and sustainable profitability in crypto trading. The result is a user-friendly, transparent, and reliable investment platform.

AARON HERBERT (CEO)

Aaron Herbert is the founder and CEO of Fimonex. Born in 1968 and a United Kingdom citizen, Herbert combined his expertise in computer engineering with his long-standing investments in cryptocurrency, laying the foundation for the Fimonex platform.

His interest in cryptocurrencies led him to spend years developing software and working on algorithms for trading bots. As the cryptocurrency market grew rapidly, he decided to create innovative solutions that bridge the gap between financial markets and software engineering. After years of research and development, he built Fimbot, an advanced automated arbitrage trading system, and launched Fimonex, opening new profit opportunities for crypto investors.

Aaron Herbert is committed to providing a fast, secure, and sustainable trading experience. His vision is to harness the power of technology to create intelligent financial solutions and make investing more accessible to everyone.

FIMBOT

What is FIMBOT?

Fimbot is an advanced automated trading bot developed by our software team using the Python programming language. It is designed to generate profits by leveraging price differences that arise from supply and demand fluctuations of the same cryptocurrencies across multiple exchanges.

Currently, Fimbot operates on 14 different exchanges, executing over 100 transactions per second. It continuously monitors cryptocurrency prices in real time, instantly purchasing assets from the exchange offering the lowest price and selling them on the exchange with the highest price to secure profits.

With its high-frequency trading capability, Fimbot maintains an impressive 80% profitable trade success rate, ensuring consistent, small, yet steady profits every second.
